Vulcan-Vulcan Park has featured the largest cast iron sculpture in the world and has been one of the City's largest tourist attractions. Visitors enjoy the formal gardens, beautiful water fountains and meticulously landscaped grounds with space for mountainside picnics, weddings and receptions. In 1997, Vulcan was named "Birmingham's Must See Spot for Visitors" by a readers' poll of the Birmingham News. Although the park closed in March 1999 due to structural deterioration, the Vulcan Statue has been refurbished largely due to fund raising efforts spearheaded by the Chamber of Commerce. The park reopened to the public during the first quarter of 2004.
